The Philadelphia City Scholarship Program awards approximately 50 college scholarships to high school seniors each year. Scholarship awards are $1,000 for each academic year for four consecutive years of full-time enrollment in accredited, four-year, bachelor degree programs. The City of Philadelphia funds this scholarship program and has assisted more than 2,600 students in earning a college degree.

- Have filed the 2017-2018 FAFSA form (Free Application for Federal Student Aid)

Selection Criteria

Applications for the Philadelphia City Scholarship Program are evaluated by the Philadelphia City Scholarship Review Committee. Factors considered include high school grades, extracurricular activities, leadership potential, writing ability, SAT scores, and financial need (from FAFSA Student Aid Report). Students who receive the Mayor's Scholarship (a different scholarship program) to the University of Pennsylvania are not eligible to receive the Philadelphia City Scholarship. Awards are renewable.

Scholarship recipients are required to renew their awards each summer to confirm that they continue to meet the minimum requirements of the program.
